

Do you really know how to protect your child from online threats?

Learn what you CAN do.

Join us for a BH-BL Parent University presentation
Wednesday, March 14 at 7 p.m. in the O'Rourke Middle School Library with law enforcement officials from New York's Finest Speakers.

New York's Finest Speakers, which formed in 2007, is made up of law enforcement professionals dedicated to educating and protecting today's young people and their parents from threats posed by internet usage and drug involvement. At the presentation, they will educate you about:

- why, how, and from whom children need to be protected;
- how to protect your child (and self) from online predators;
- cyber bullying, stalking, harassments, and threats;
- warning signs, personal responsibility and repercussions;
- websites, apps and social media privacy, age requirements, and help centers;
- sexting/exploitation; and
- what parents and students need to do—now.
