

STAFF-STUDENT RELATIONS

P9150

The Board of Education believes that learning is enhanced when the relationship between staff and students is one of cooperation, understanding, and respect. Faculty members should make a concerted effort to involve themselves in the academic and non-academic activities of the students. The building principal should exhibit an enthusiastic, involved relationship with student activities. The teacher in charge of day to day instruction should exercise interpersonal skills to promote an atmosphere conducive to learning and to motivate each pupil to perform at capacity.

Reviewed June 1999

Renumbered from P4410 – September 2015